like a cloak,
and it will feed
every corner
of your life."
